BAC-7 State Budget Update

Background Information

On June 28, 2019, Governor Cooper vetoed the $24 billion state budget. Since that time, the General Assembly has been carving out pieces of the budget and sending them to the Governor. One report labeled these as “mini-budgets.” Raises for some state employees are being considered the week of August 26. In the original budget, UNC employees were to get about 0.5% increases, while other state employees were to receive 2.5% increases. Also, UNCG was to get $84 million for Jackson Library renovations in the original budget.
