BOT-1 Emergency Management and the COVID-19 Response

Background Information

The University maintains an Emergency Operations Plan that is exercised and updated regularly. This plan serves as the principal framework for preparing for and responding to any type of emergency or disaster that may impact UNC Greensboro.

As an unprecedented communicable disease incident, the national response to COVID-19 has impacted everyone's way of life. The University has taken extraordinary measures to protect the health and safety of our students, faculty, and staff. These actions have necessitated the activation of the Emergency Operations Plan and required communication and coordination across all divisions of the University.

Emergency Management Director Zach Smith will provide a general overview of the UNCG emergency management program and the University's response to COVID-19.

Visit the Emergency Management website for more information about the Office of Emergency Management, and the UNCG COVID-19 webpage for updated information on the University's response to COVID-19.
